EVA MARIE D'ANTUONO
Deputy for Small Business
New England District

Eva Marie D'Antuono joined the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers (USACE), New England District in December 1992 following four years with the U.S. Army Materials Technology Laboratory in Watertown, Massachusetts. She began her federal career as an administrative assistant and has held progressively more responsible positions, including Purchasing Agent and Contract Specialist. She currently serves as the Deputy for Small Business. She has held this position for over eight years.

During the last eight years, the percentage of New England District's program going to small businesses has grown from 30 percent to almost 50 percent. These progressive statistics demonstrate her passion and initiative to improve USACE's small business performance from her initial appointment as the New England District Deputy for Small Business. She continuously demonstrates her commitment to small businesses, and is a strong advocate for them. Ms. D'Antuono works closely with the small business community by mentoring them on how to do business with U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. As a result of her efforts, several of the U.S. Army Corps small business contractors have been nominated and selected for awards given by the U.S. Small Business Administration.

Ms. D'Antuono holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration from Suffolk University (1991). She is a member on the Department of Defense Northeast Regional Council for Small Business Education and Advocacy. She currently serves as Chair. Ms. D'Antuono is also an active member of the Boston Post's Society of American Military Engineers - Small Business Committee. In June 2003, she was awarded the Department of the Army's Achievement Medal for Civilian Service. In June 2004, she received Small Business Administration's Special Achievement Award for her dedication to the small business programs.
